EMPLOYER NEWS

We recently had an opportunity to speak with Ortho Clinical Diagnostics. They are a global scientific research and development company specializing in in-vitro diagnostics and diagnostic equipment for blood testing. The company is currently building its summer internship program and is very interested in receiving applications from Columbia students. Students studying life sciences or engineering (especially chemical and biomedical) are encouraged to apply. Ortho Diagnostics does not post opportunities in LionSHARE as they require applications to go directly to their careers website. Most of these internship opportunities are located in Rochester, NY, however, when possible, Ortho Diagnostics will assist with summer housing.

CAREER TIP OF THE WEEK

Welcome back Juniors! Whether you’re looking for research, internship or volunteer opportunities for the summer here are some tips to keep your search active and evolving.

CCE EVENTS AND PROGRAMS
